CITY DADS

Hold Interesting Meeting Monday Night—Several New Sources of Income Discussed.

Monday night at the City Council Chamber the City Dads held an interesting meeting, with Mayor Lee presiding. On the Mayor's desk was a beautiful outglass basket of sweet peas, a gift from Mrs. Lee to the body, wishing them a happy and prosperous New Year.

The Mayor reported that during the last month he had collected $50.83 for licenses.

The Claims and Accounts Committee reported that the expenditures of the last month amounted to $3,256.12.

The City Treasurer reported a balance of $6,960.47.

Treasurer Curran's report was as follows:

RECEIPTS.
Balance from last month $13,429.09
Taxes 581.53
Licenses 50.93
Fines and costs 137.90
Total $14,199.45

EXPENDITURES
Sundries 198.42
Fire department 396.59
Salaries 279.11
Internal improvements 3,168.76
Gas and electricity 746.51
Alms house 333.71
Pensions 71.00
Police 466.46
Boarding and guarding city prisoners 244.20
Schools 1,310.13
Public Library 25.00
Total $7,238.88

The Chief of the Fire Department reported that the department had answered one call and two still alarms during the month of December and that all the apparatus pertaining to the department was in first-class condition.

The following building permits were granted:

R. P. Moody, one-story brick building on the lot at No. 111 Sutton street, Second ward, the building to have a felt roof.

January & Wood Company, a three-story brick factory on a lot in the rear of their factory on West Second street, First ward, the building to have a gravel roof.

Walter R. Scott, three-room addition to his residence on Strawberry alley, Fifth ward.

H. H. Barkley, one-story metal clad building with tin roof in rear of his business house on West Second street, Second ward.

The semi-annual report of the City Treasurer was read and approved by the body.

The annual report of Fire Chief Newell was read and approved.

Licenses to operate poolrooms were granted as follows: F. A. Diener, corner of Sutton and Second streets; C. E. Martin, West Second street, between Court and Sutton streets; John T. Smith, Market near Front; James H. Bradford, Front near Limestone.

The Mayor informed the body that he had approved the bondsmen of the officers of the city, as was his right by the statutes of the state.

A letter from Rhu & Schmidt Construction Company of Cincinnati, was read by the Mayor, in which the company informed the City Council that they would not oppose any attempts of the city in awarding the brick street contract to another contractor. They also asked that their certified checks be returned to them and this was ordered done.

A communication from Mr. Al. Maddox, a resident of the Fifth ward, was received and read, in which Mr. Maddox claims the city owes him $60 for the removal of a sewer. This business was referred to the Propositions and Grievances Committee.

Mr. Thomas of the Ordinance Committee, offered an ordinance placing the licenses on soft drink and pop stands as follows:

Pop and cola drinks, $5 per year.
Soda fountain pop and cola, $25.
Near-beer, etc., $200.
Wholesale of near-beer, $50.

After discussion the ordinance was acted on with an amendment by Mr. Thomas that the next section of the ordinance be placed at $1,000 instead of $200. This amendment was carried by the vote of seven to five. However, when a motion to suspend the rules and make a final vote on the measure was asked it was refused by the body as the vote lacked one of being the required two-thirds to suspend the rules.

Mr. Thomas then offered an ordinance making the fine for violating the liquor laws $100 and the forfeiture of license on conviction, should the offender have one. This was adopted.

Mr. Thomas then offered an ordinance taxing house and junk boats $10 a year. An amendment by Mr. Easton making every boat having a top be taxed and a license tag be placed on each craft. The amendment carried, but when it was asked to have

FATALLY BURNED

Clothing of Mrs. Alvie Haffer Caught Fire From Open Grate—Died Last Night

Monday morning about 10 o'clock Mrs. Alvie Haffer of East Fourth street, was so seriously burned about the body that after several hours of agony she died the same night, notwithstanding the fact that Dr. Leslie Brand did everything possible to save her life.

Mrs. Haffer was engaged in dusting a clock which was on the mantelpiece over an open grate fire, and the draft from the chimney caught her dress and drew it into the flames and her body was soon enveloped in blazing clothing.

Mrs. John Hayes and Mrs. Patrick King, nearby neighbors, heard the unfortunate woman's cries for assistance and rushed into the house and after frantic efforts they extinguished the flames. They were badly burned about the face and arms in the operation.
